

Sample County Commissioner Proclamation

Whereas, the educational success of Lycoming County's children is essential for the future of the county and

Whereas, children forget as much as twenty-two percent of the lessons they learned in the classroom over the summer vacation

Whereas, the single most effective way to combat this summer learning loss is for children to read over the summer

and

Whereas, the county provides funds to support the public library system in Lycoming County therefore

We now proclaim May 24, 2011... as Summer Reading Day in Lycoming County and urge all parents and caregivers to enroll their children in the public library's summer reading program.
